

Multi-Generational Leadership for Sustainability: Equipping influential families to shape the 21st Century May – October 2023, part-time

What and why?

Trust-based, international forum for change. Supporting influential families to determine their unique contribution - individually and collectively - to ensuring a sustainable, resilient and inclusive net zero world.

Structured opportunity to develop new models of stewardship and leadership around the strengths and ambitions of different family generations.

A dual focus on external and internal leadership to optimise learning and practical impact.

An academic voice and a safe environment to explore topics critical to families and to their communities, to ensure family sustainability and continuity, and to align family vision and values with long-term solutions for society and the planet.

Who is this for?

Highly influential families with significant potential to drive change through their assets, enterprises or networks.

International and multi-generational. Open to elders, current decision-makers and next generation members.

Format

Six-month bespoke programme combining network meetings, thematic workshops, family case studies, expert advice from sector leaders, and guided one-to-one consultations.

Hybrid delivery including in-person residential workshops and networking gala dinners, Cambridge, UK (June and October), supported by 4 thematic deep dive online modules.

Lifelong membership of CISL's global community of leaders, changemakers and experts in sustainable development.

Participant Testimonials

“The advantage to being here in Cambridge is access to the brilliant minds that have opened up our thinking and challenged us to question what we do and why we do it... and to think about systems, the impact on nature of everything we do, and to make sure that in our businesses we reflect on how every impact that we have affects people, communities and those around us”

Andy Rubin, UK

“The programme provides the opportunity to speak to other members of business families and discuss some of the challenges that we can expect to see in the future. The most valuable part so far has been the hard-evidence approach to some of those challenges that families are facing as well as the future outlook ”

Zehra Hassan, Pakistan

Applications

All applications are subject to a robust vetting procedure to ensure participants meet the criteria and that the cohort is a suitably diverse group.

One-to-one meetings with the programme team can also be arranged if you have any further questions or clarifications regarding the programme.

To apply, please complete the registration form.

To learn more, please visit the website, or contact multi-generational.leadership@cisl.cam.ac.uk

25 May 2023	5-8 June 2023	22 June – 21 September 2023	5-6 October 2023
Online	Cambridge	Online	Cambridge
Introductory Call	In-person Workshop Immersive. Interactive. Inspiring. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Systemic challenges and sustainability transitions • Finance and governance • Family, institutional and systemic resilience • Innovation, collaboration and leadership 	Thematic deep dives into examples of leading practice and emerging debates. Dates of Online Modules (flexible depending on group preference) 22 June 6 July 7 September 21 September Throughout July and August: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Peer-to-peer & group exchanges • One-to-one meetings with experts • Family conversations • Personal project/pledge (optional) 	Closing & Networking Event

Cross-cutting themes: Family purpose, values, legacy, leadership

Recurring sessions: Family case studies (best practices, leading examples, tested frameworks & tools)

Community support: Dedicated tutors, mentors, & leading experts; peer-to-peer exchange & engagement

Global Network: Influential families; inter-generational platform; next-gen forum

Online portal: Exclusive access to insight and resources; group discussion platform